Friendship

2019-2020 Number 29 | Friday 7th May 2020

With Jesus as our guide,
we will inspire a passion for learning, high aspirations and respect for all.

So another week passes, the weather is fabulous and I am looking forward to seeing some of the lovely VE celebrations that you might have planned for tomorrow. Thank you to all of you for the lovely comments we received regarding Head 2 Home last week and I know Mr Chambers has found the messages he has received a huge support.

We would all be having the day off school tomorrow but if things were normal I am sure we would be spending it quite differently. On Monday our Year 6 children would have been taking their Statutory Assessment Tests alongside all of the other Year 6 children across the country. All of the secondary schools that our children are moving onto in September have been in contact with us and we have provided them with detailed information as to what we feel those children would have achieved if they had taken the tests.

I have been so impressed with how all of you have tried your best with the home learning and I know how tricky it is if you don't have a laptop, printer or IT equipment to do some of the work. Please remember this is a time that you might well learn a new skill around the house, cooking, painting, gardening or improving your skills of colouring, completing puzzles, catching a ball. These are all important and it has been lovely seeing the pictures of you busy doing these things as well as working at Maths and English. Keep going I am very proud of you all.

Thank you to those parents of the Year 4 and 5 children that have replied regarding the Isle of Wight Trip scheduled for next year, there is still time to do this just email me on head@allsaints-pri.northants-ecl.gov.uk. This is a fabulous opportunity and one that I know our current Year 6 children are desperately sad not to have the chance to attend so please take this opportunity to consider this.

On Monday the packs of work that we have provided for our Pupil Premium children will again be available from outside the Reception area for you to return this week's work and collect the next bits and pieces.

I hope that after Boris Johnson (no relation I must add and not my husband as one child thought) has spoken on Sunday we may have some further information regarding the current situation. I have no further information on reopening the school to more children than all of you have once I do I will share with you the plans for All Saints. Until that time please stay safe and take care of one another .
